

Medical Emergencies Courses - Autumn/Winter 2018

Led by Professor Mervyn Singer, Professor of Intensive Care Medicine, University College London

Courses designed for healthcare professionals working in Intensive Care, Anaesthetics, Emergency Medicine, General Medicine or any other speciality where a medical emergency may be encountered

51st Medical Emergencies Course for Trainee Doctors

Saturday 22nd & Sunday 23rd September

The UCH Education Centre, 250 Euston Road, London

Topics to include:

What constitutes a sick patient?
Acute heart failure, arrhythmias
Dyspnoea, acute asthma pneumothorax
Oliguria, acute kidney injury
Hypothermia, hyperthermia, overdose
Hypotensive patient, the septic patient
Myocardial infarction, chest pain
Unconscious patient, status epilepticus, meningitis
Hypovolaemia, GI haemorrhage, acute hepatic failure
Metabolic emergencies

Registration Fee: £295

44th Medical Emergencies Course for Consultants

Monday 3rd & Tuesday 4th December

Mary Ward House, Tavistock Place, London

Topics to include:

Acute coronary syndromes	Hypothermia & hyperthermia
Dermatology emergencies	Oliguria & acute renal failure
Infectious disease emergencies	Metabolic emergencies
Hypertensive crisis	Acute GI emergencies
The elderly patient with falls	Haematology emergencies
Overdose & poisoning	Respiratory emergencies
HIV-related emergencies	Acute stroke
The hypotensive patient	Arrhythmias
Status epilepticus	Heart failure
Liver failure

Registration Fee: £350

RCoA CPD Approved Courses

Register online now at www.hartleytaylor.co.uk

Enquiries: derry@hartleytaylor.co.uk / Telephone 01296 586780