Edinburgh International Course in Medicine of the Older Adults

Edinburgh International Course in Medicine of the Older Adults

“Consistently one of the best opportunities of the year for CPD in general medicine.”

Welcome

At the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh our up-to-date and innovative education programme will support you throughout your professional career.

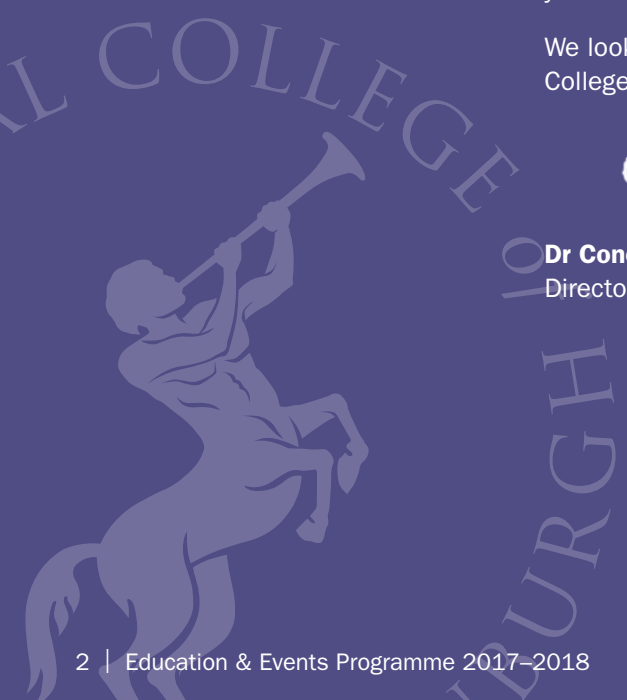

Continuing professional development (CPD) for physicians comes in many forms. You can attend events at the College to access our world-renowned education programme or watch many of them live through our webstreaming service at almost 70 sites around the world.

We also offer a flexible distance-learning environment with interactive modules, challenging cases and archived lectures through our Education Portal.

Education is at the heart of what we do and we are committed to ensuring you can access it wherever you are and whenever you need it.

We look forward to welcoming you to the College.

Dr Conor Maguire
Director of Education

Our programme of symposia and conferences covers general and acute medical specialties, with an emphasis on practical clinical issues. The core clinical programme is complemented by symposia focusing on policy issues and areas of change or controversy.

Students can attend for just £12

For more details or
to book, visit:
events.rcpe.ac.uk

Our symposia are webstreamed live to sites worldwide for our international Fellows, Members and their colleagues. There is no charge for hosting or attending symposia at linked sites and CPD certificates are issued after each event. Delegates can take part by using the relevant hashtag on Twitter, messaging on Facebook or emailing symposia.questions@rcpe.ac.uk

Remember – Missed an event? You can catch up on our Education Portal after the event.

Organised by our Trainees and Members' Committee and free to attend at the College or our link sites, the 2017–2018 Evening Medical Update (EMU) programme follows the 'Top Medical Presentations' and 'Emergency Presentations' as defined in the General Internal Medicine (GIM) training curriculum. Topics are covered in monthly updates between September and June. These updates are primarily for trainees but they are open to all hospital doctors, GPs, healthcare professionals and medical students at any stage of their career with an interest in the topic. All EMUs are held on a Tuesday evening.

“Top notch as always. Very good speakers who were clearly very knowledgeable.”

Evening Meetings

Following the same format as the Evening Medical Updates, additional evening events are provided for new doctors and recently appointed consultants but may also be of interest to others. All are welcome.

Primarily for
New doctors & consultants

2017

Tues 7 November The 21st Century Consultant: Looking to the Future (organised by the Recently Appointed Consultants' Committee) #rcpeSolutions

2018

Tues 24 July Top Tips for FY1 Doctors #rcpeTips

Live webstreaming

Evening updates are held at the College and are transmitted live to more than 100 sites throughout the UK. Please contact your Postgraduate Office or email Josie Kirk for further information. New sites are often added, so check our website for up-to-date information. Contact: j.kirk@rcpe.ac.uk

Would you like to set up a group to link into these updates from your hospital? If there is no webstream site near you, we can support you in doing this. Email Sophie Milton for assistance. Contact: s.milton@rcpe.ac.uk

All Evening Meetings and EMUs begin at 6.30 pm and end at approximately 8.15 pm.

Watch again

If you missed the live webstream or want to watch again, EMU talks are available on our Education Portal learning.rcpe.ac.uk

“ Really good idea to bring specialist talks to a wider audience. ”

details or
to book, visit:
events.rcpe.ac.uk

We run a number of courses in Edinburgh, with more in development. Please visit our website for up-to-date information on all our courses.

MSc Internal Medicine

We run a joint MSc with the University of Edinburgh, which is an online, distance-learning course delivered over three years. Primarily for doctors early in their careers, the curriculum complements the syllabus for MRCP(UK), with additional modules to advance patient management, to give practical experience in literature review, and to prepare for future audit, research and publication.

The College offers a number of full or partial scholarships for the MSc each year. Visit our website for details: rcpe.ac.uk/msc-internal-medicine

PACES Preparatory Course

Mon 25 – Wed 27 September 2017

To support you in preparation for PACES, we run a three-day preparation course in Edinburgh in partnership with NHS Lothian Clinical Skills & Assessment Centre, on which our Fellows teach.

Visit our website for further details: rcpe.ac.uk/PACES

Introduction to Clinical Research for Trainees Course

Wed 11 – Thurs 12 October 2017 | #rcpeResearch

This is a course for early-years medical trainees, particularly CMT2 and ST3, that will equip you with knowledge of how the research process works from initial study conception, through funding, conduct, analysis and dissemination of the results. Whether you are thinking of embarking on research or want to gain the essential competencies for accreditation, this course will show you how you can engage with research. Trainees with recent research experience will share their stories of what it is like to make the jump from clinical work to the research arena.

22nd Advanced Gastroenterology and Hepatology Course

Thurs 25 – Fri 26 January 2018 | #rcpeGIHep18

This well-established course is aimed at senior medical, nursing, scientific and allied health professional staff in gastroenterology and hepatology, and features a day focusing on each. Delegates may attend for one or both days.

International Course in Medicine of the Older Adult 2018

Mon 14 – Fri 18 May 2018 | #rcpeOlder18

This popular course, run annually by the College, is designed to update experienced physicians, consultants and senior trainees in elderly medicine from across the world about developing areas in the specialty. Each of the five days has its own topic and there is an attractive social programme incorporating a medical history tour of Edinburgh. Feedback is consistently excellent.

Edinburgh Oncology Course

Mon 25 – Fri 29 March 2019 | #rcpeOnc19

This course is designed for trainees in clinical oncology at the start of their preparation for the FRCR exam part 2 and trainees in medical oncology at the start of their preparation for MRCP(UK) Specialty Certificate Examination in Medical Oncology. Specialty doctors and specialist nurses find the course very useful, as do consultants looking for a refresher. The programme includes lectures, MDM discussions and clinical case scenarios, and consistently receives excellent feedback from delegates.

Mentor training workshops

We organise workshops for small groups of mentors taking part in our Mentoring Scheme for recently appointed consultants. More details can be found on our website: rcpe.ac.uk/careers-training/mentoring-scheme

“Excellent course. I wish I had attended the previous years as well!”

Support and development

Careers support

The Trainees & Members' Committee aims to support students, trainees and SAS doctors in their career development. The following free events are open to all.

Medical Careers Symposium

Sat 7 October 2017 | #rcpeCareers17

This annual one-day symposium is for medical students, foundation doctors and ST1/2 doctors, and is held at the College in Edinburgh. Designed to help you choose the right career, topics include what is involved in the application and training process, a guide to postgraduate exams and alternative career pathways, an insight into workforce planning and top tips for finals and FY1. The event ends with the chance to meet the speakers.

For more information, contact Orela Deane: o.deane@rcpe.ac.uk

Top Tips on Life as an FY1

Tues 24 July 2018 | #rcpeTips

This evening event takes place at the College in Edinburgh and is live-linked to over 50 hospitals across the UK. Timed for trainee doctors about to experience their first hospital shift, it consists of three short presentations with time for questions at the end of each talk. You can also ask questions via Twitter.

For more information, contact Josie Kirk: j.kirk@rcpe.ac.uk

Medical careers resource

The College's Trainees and Members' Committee has published a series of online personal perspectives from doctors who have gone through training in the medical specialties. This resource is updated frequently as we aim to cover all medical specialties and subspecialties.

Visit rcpe.ac.uk for further information.

Preparing for MRCP(UK)?

You'll find the EMUs very useful (see page 8) – if you can't attend the evening sessions you can search the Education Portal for topics of interest. You'll also find the specialty modules and MCQs throughout the portal useful.

To support you in preparation for PACES, we run a three-day preparation course in Edinburgh in partnership with NHS Lothian Clinical Skills & Assessment Centre, on which our Fellows teach (see page 13 for course dates). Fees apply.

Visit our website for further details: rcpe.ac.uk/PACES

Continuing Professional Development (CPD)

Support for Recently Appointed Consultants

Our Recently Appointed Consultants (RAC) Committee seeks to ensure that the College provides appropriate, practical support to those in their first 10 years as a consultant.

For 2017–2018 there are various activities and events organised by the RAC Committee, including an evening meeting on Tuesday 7 November 2017 and an annual symposium on Friday 16 March 2018. See page 10 for further information.

CPD Diary

We run the CPD Diary primarily for physicians in the UK, in conjunction with RCP London and RCPS Glasgow. The diary can help you maintain a personal and validated record of your CPD activities on an annual basis. Over 20,000 doctors use the CPD Diary and have access to this unique resource of approved CPD activities. It is also accessible for international Fellows. See our website for details: rcpe.ac.uk/CPD

We also approve events and distance learning modules for CPD purposes. These approved events, including those run by each of the three Colleges of Physicians, appear on the Federation's online database, which is available through the CPD Diary.

Online Education

If you're unable to attend our events, you can access them via our Education Portal wherever you are. Over 400 lectures from our Symposia, Evening Medical Updates and professional update events are available to watch when it suits you.

The Education Portal also has related content from the Journal and self-assessment and completion certificates for personal CPD.

Specialty Modules

Whatever stage you are at in your career, we can help you to increase your medical specialty knowledge, keep up to date and gain CPD points by completing our interactive specialty modules. Approximately 10 modules are available at any time. And try our challenging cases!

learning.rcpe.ac.uk

The Education Portal is free for all our Fellows and Members.

Joining the College is free for medical students or doctors in their first two years of work post-medical school. Fellows and Members of other Colleges can join as Associates for just £60 for the first year. See page 26 for further details.
