

STASHH

STUDENT & TRAINEE ASSOCIATION
FOR SEXUAL HEALTH & HIV

Local Ambassadors

Medical Student Representative

STASHH has been developed in association with the British Association of Sexual Health and HIV (BASHH) to foster a professional interest in sexual health and HIV for medical students and pre-specialty doctors.

We aim to:

- Provide educational opportunities through monthly webinars
- Support career development via mentoring
- Promote and facilitate opportunities for projects (audit, QIP, research, clinical shadowing)
- Host and signpost careers events

We are looking to recruit passionate and motivated medical students who would ideally have a keen interest in sexual health and HIV medicine.

Your role will involve:

- Actively promoting STASHH and its education events, career fairs and projects to other medical students at your university.
 - Circulating information to fellow students.
 - Advertising STASHH and its events via social media, if possible.
- Participation in our events when available, with opportunity to help chair and organise our sessions.
- Act as an intermediary between STASHH and its members at your medical school.

What's in it for you?

- You'll be the first to hear about exciting opportunities in the field.
- Networking with other prospective GUM trainees as well as current trainees and consultants.
- Opportunities to write for our Newsletter.
- Certification of participation at the end of the year upon receipt of evidence of your contribution.

The role will be re-advertised on a yearly basis.

We hope you will consider applying for this exciting role.

Please send applications in the format below or any queries to
