

Menu for Practice Management Development

This Menu is a supportive resource which is accessible and relevant to all those working in a Practice Management role. There are now greater expectations and demands on the Practice Manager and their professionalism, capabilities, knowledge and skills, which has been driven by the increased awareness of the need to improve quality across health care.

If Practice Managers are to meet the challenges of the ever-changing NHS, they have to be able to identify their strengths and weaknesses. This then allows them to know which areas to focus on to develop the knowledge and skills required to deal with the quantity and complexity of information relevant to the Practice Manager's role and responsibilities.

Effective Practice Managers don't have to "know it all", but they do need to be aware of where they can find information on issues, they are not 100% confident about.

Using the Learning Needs Analysis (LNA) Tool will help to identify what you know and what you don't know, which will help guide and highlight areas for personal development.

Learning Needs Analysis

The LNA will help to determine the gap between existing skills, identify current knowledge and abilities, and help to clarify learning objectives and help set goals.

Following the completion of the LNA tool, you should produce a report that identifies and prioritises objectives that you can focus on in your personal development plan.

Learning Needs Analysis Scoring Guidance and Prioritising

LOW	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You don't know what you don't know. • You have very little experience on this particular subject. • You know this is a weakness and know you need to develop knowledge on this subject. • You do not feel at all confident in this area.
MEDIUM	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You understand or know how to perform the skill without assistance. • You can demonstrate the skill or knowledge. • It requires conscious thought and concentration. • You would benefit from developing the relevant skills further. • You feel reasonably confident in this area.
HIGH	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You have had so much practice with a skill that it becomes "second nature" and can be performed easily (often without concentrating too deeply). • You may or may not be able to teach it to others, depending upon how and when it was learned. • You have complete confidence in your knowledge and skills on this subject. • You are aware that although you are comfortable with this, you do still need to refresh your skills and have protocols in place to do this routinely.
ACTION PLAN	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You now know what you don't know and have identified areas to focus on. • Consider which areas are a priority for you compared to others and use this column to prioritise your personal development plan. • Discuss with your line manager whether you just need to be aware of this area or if you need to know more. • Ask yourself if this is a realistic priority; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Is there a training opportunity? ○ Are you able to resource the information for self-directed learning? ○ Will you have the opportunity to practice your new knowledge and develop the relevant skills? ○ What level of skill is required for you to effectively carry out your role?
